HEALTH AND SAFETY:

Never use Face Paint on someone with a skin allergy. Always test on the inside of the wrist before you begin. We recommend a barrier cream be used first on sensitive skins. Never use Face Paint too close to the eyes, mouth or nose. Never use the type of glitter paints that are not designed for painting on people.

Face Painting

Hints, Tips & Techniques

Ideal for children's Parties

THE BASICS:

It is hard to make mistakes in face painting. It is all about having fun! You will need a jar of water, clean sponge or brush and paper towels. For more complex designs try doing a sketch first or make a stencil out of plastic or card. Try to paint thinly as the skin is a flexible surface and heavy coatings may crack. Place an old towel or paper towels around the shoulders. Have your model relax their face - no squinting! HAVE FUN!

USING FACE PAINT COLOURS:

If you do not have all the colours you need try mixing the colours together to make a new colour. Mix on the back of your hand or in a saucer. See our mix and match colour guide. To add additional colours next to or over the first colour, allow Face Paint to dry. Paint your lighter colours first.

PAINTING DETAILS:

Paint your details with your make-up brush. Make sure you wash your brush between colours or have a brush for each colour. Paint carefully around eyes and never go too close with your brush. Try cotton buds/swabs for easy control.

REMOVAL:

Wash off with soap and water. A moisturiser or a barrier cream will assist with easy removal. Paint washes out of clothes in luke-warm soap water. However, some staining may occur. Cleaning brushes and sponges is easier while still damp.

USING SPONGES:

Sponges or cotton wool can be used to apply a smooth base colour over the face. Sponges need to be just damp with water and not dripping. Have your model relax and close their eyes as if they were sleeping. Dip the damp sponge into a little amount of face paint and using either a brushing sweep or dabbing action apply to the face. Try starting from the top of the forehead and sweep with one long stroke to the point of the chin. If you want a duotone (two colour), always apply the lightest colour first. The second colour can be blended in by lightly dabbing along the adjoining edge. Wash sponges between colours or have a sponge for each colour.

Brushing on the finer details

USING BRUSHES:

FAS Face Paint is best suited to synthetic or sable brushes. Try to paint thinly as this will avoid any cracking and allow the face painting to last much longer. Use a fine thin brush for fine lines. Try to keep your lines continuous with confident brushing rather than broken and sketchy.
